

A workshop on “How to use Art in classrooms” was conducted in Pallavan School, Jhalawar for the teachers by Mrs. Shalu Sharma, Head of Pallavanjali School, Gurgaon.

She started with a general introduction of using art in learning and teaching process. The main theme of the session was based on cognition. She explained briefly about the various subjects like in Maths how to solve the word problems by the Bar Graph method. In languages, more emphasize need to be given on using the visual methods. Learning tricks, activities, mind mappings were discussed at length with the teachers for making the class lively and for the sake of retention. Methods to use varied short breaks and buddy system which need to be inculcated amongst peer groups were also talked about. In a nutshell, it was very interesting as teachers of all the subjects benefitted from this workshop.
